THE DAILY SENTINEL.

C. L. MACARTHUR & D. M. KEELER, EDITORS.

Tuesday Morning, December 17, 1844.

Put it on Record.

The 'free Democracy' of this Territory assembled, on the 4th inst., at Mineral Point, to celebrate, as they classically termed it, 'the downfall of that same old coon, and the glorious ascension of the democratic chancellier' yept Polk. The last number of the Wisconsin Argus gives a glowing account of this collection of 'the Patriotic Democracy,' and the writer is apparently in ecstasies to think that every one was in such excellent spirits! As it is from the proceedings of meetings like these that we often learn the principles and sentiments of parties, it may not be amiss for us to bestow a moment's consideration upon this loco-foco demonstration.

The day was not particularly propitious—mud, rain, and wind being in the ascendant. Hon. M. Strong 'illuminated the throng' in a speech, in which he attempted to prove that the whig party were ready to throw up their old organization and fall into the embraces of Nativism. When he succeeds in proving this position correct, we shall believe him capable of demonstrating that any absurdity is true. 'After dinner,' says the Argus, 'at which time we observed the remains of several coons,' [but the first time locofocos have made cannibals of themselves] several toasts were read, expressive of the sentiments entertained by those of the party who were present. Some of these resolutions are worthy of attention. Here is one:

'The event we celebrate—The victory of the working classes over the motley powers; of principle over corruption, etc.'

If this means anything more than mere twaddle, it conveys a gross insult to that large and respectable portion of American citizens, who by industry and economy have amassed fortunes. It has become quite fashionable of late for the loco-foco party to cry down every one who has raised himself to competency by hard labor and perseverance. Who are these individuals whom they so glibly plaster over with such epithets as aristocrats and nobles? They are your Abbot Lawrences, your Astors and your Girards—men who have raised themselves by their own honorable exertions from the humblest walks of life to wealth and fortune. Whose enterprise first planted the standard of civilization upon the far-off coast of the Pacific? History points to Astor. Whose purse sheltered and fed thousands who were living in abject misery, in the dead of winter, in a populous city?—who created employment for thousands and fed and paid them liberally? History points to Girard. Whose industry and energy set the factories of New England in motion and gave the means of subsistence and plenty to thousands?—whose enterprise gave life and activity to the sunny villages of New England, and brought joys to the social circle, and smiles to the wan cheek of want? 'Twas your Abbot Lawrences, whom you scoldingly term aristocrats. These men set the spindles in motion, and the industrious Operative soon had his hundreds in a Savings Bank, or became a partner and shared in the profits. And who are these who are crying out so loudly against wealth—who are seeking to brand honest competency with shame? Echo answers—'nobles' Go and search them out from their obscure hiding places, and you will find that they are small beer orators—pot-house politicians—who are discontented with their lots, envious of their superiors, without the talent and energy requisite to acquire fame and fortune for themselves, and thirsting for power and place which they hope to obtain by illegitimate means. These are the men who cry 'down with the Tariff'—who seek to create an ill-feeling between the laborer and the capitalist—who inflame the minds of the weak, the vicious and the discontented and lead them astray. They cannot appreciate that all cannot be leaders—that there must be a head, a rank and file—in all undertakings and in all business. They do not see that our railroads, our works of public improvement—the very steamboats that bring them to their Western homes, could not be built were it not for the assistance of these 'monied powers' which they are so flippant in branding with corruption, and which they seek to bring down to their own common level.

Every one knows that the prosperity of the laborer depends upon the prosperity of the employer. Why then seek to rob the employer of the means of paying the laborer? Why seek to create a difference in interests? A modern phase of locofocoism teaches that all are to be employers and none operatives. This carries us back to the days of primitive simplicity, and the idea is certainly worthy of such an age—but of none other. The rights of the capitalist are as sacred as those of the laborer—and it bodes no very correct moral or political principle to see any set of men rejoicing in the consumption of measures which are to effect the ruin of the wealthier classes. The chuckling of locofocos over the downfall of the 'monied powers' looks very much like an approximation to Agrarianism—the ultimatum to which their insane cry against wealth is tending. In a country like ours, where the avenues to fame and fortune are open to all, men pretending to correct principles should be the last to decry the characters of those who have become distinguished for their enterprise, simply because they have become wealthy. On the other hand the rising generation should be pointed to good examples, and taught that perseverance, industry, economy and integrity, the unalloyed landmarks to fortune, are essential, either to happiness or an extended sphere of usefulness. Any endeavor to ridicule and bring into contempt the rich, merely because they are rich, would be to stimulate poverty, vice, and laziness.

We have not space for further comment upon these toasts, but shall avail ourselves of the earliest opportunity to continue the subject.

Col. Benton's organ in Missouri proposes Hon. Silas Wright, as the next candidate of the loco-foco party for the Presidency.

Our Daily.

In reply to the fears frequently expressed by many of our sincere friends that we shall not be able to sustain our Daily, we have only to say that every day—aye, every hour, more fully establishes us in the confidence of the permanency and stability of our establishment. We are by no means disheartened—but on the contrary, highly encouraged. A constant, steady increase of patronage in subscription, advertising and job work, is to us an incontestable evidence that our sanguine anticipations of success will be fully realized.

All we require is time—the present infantine condition of our paper will not warrant us in incurring the expense to make such a publication; would be likely to insure universal satisfaction, or as would come up to the standard of our wishes. Our labors are incessant, requiring the nightly consumption of 'midnight oil' in our avocation, and a constant devotion to early sunrise; yet we go to our laborious task with cheerfulness, and a consoling confidence that prudence, sobriety, economy and persevering industry must and will meet with an abundant reward; and that, as the humble rivulet, in its meandering course, by receiving little tributaries, swells to the magnitude of a mighty river, so THE DAILY SENTINEL, by its steady, onward progress, receiving the generous patronage, will grow into an extensively circulated and permanently established periodical. We say this in no boast—we intend no taunt to our contemporaries, whoever they may be—but it is certainly very gratifying to us to receive so many favors—to meet with such a generous patronage—and to experience so many acts of kindness and courtesy from the community in which we move. Of such a people the Oriental sultan—'may their shadows never be less'—might be blended with our fervent wishes for their unceasing prosperity and endless felicity.

We were not the children of luxury—the nurslings in the halls of opulence and grandeur—the exotic production of ceaseless perennial bloom. The winds of Heaven fanned our cheeks roughly in childhood. We have known what it is to mingle with the world, and sustain our part in the drama of human existence. Experience has taught us the stern realities attendant upon a proper discharge of the duties of life; and it must be confessed that the rainbow hues of hope and fancy are occasionally yielded to a shade of uncertainty and doubt; yet a mind, possessing a proper equanimity and an average fair estimate of things in general—a sufficient philosophy to reason from cause and effect, will eventually arrive at proper conclusions. We feel that we have chosen a laborious field in which to labor. Of a truth we anticipate but few hours of rest, and still less of recreation; but on-looking hope, pointing with outstretched fingers to the future, and a sunny countenance, beams on us, with the assurance that comfort and opulence is the sure reward of unceasing toil and industry.

But a truce to episode—away with digression: To one and all, we reiterate the assurance that our DAILY must and will be sustained. 'Never say die.'

The New York Tribune asserts that it has good authority for stating that P. M. G. Wickliffe will recommend to Congress a reduction of the rates of Postage to five cents for distance under five hundred miles, and ten cents for any greater distances. The Tribune thinks there is no danger that Congress will readily concur in this recommendation. Such an act from the P. M. General would do much to make him popular with the people. Any past errors into which he might have fallen, would be quickly forgotten in a compliance with their oft-repeated requirements. The wants of the people and the country alike require cheap postage, and we hope to see no more delay and hesitation on the part of the people's servants in this matter.

Milton Ballow, Esq., has presented us with a specimen of cheese manufactured on the dairy of Mr. Holmes of Willsborough, Lake Co., Ohio. The cheese is very rich and of an excellent flavor, and on the whole is superior to any which we have tasted in the Western Country. Mr. B. has made a deposit of a few articles of Ohio produce—such as cheese, butter and apples—at the Grocery Store of Mabbett and Lewis, where the choicest qualities of the articles may be purchased. The first premium for Dairies was awarded to Mr. Holmes, and we are assured that the utmost cleanliness is observed in the manufacture of butter and cheese. If you want a good article call at Mabbett & Lewis.

Three gentlemen have purchased the privilege of Prof. Morse of establishing an Electric Telegraph between New York and Boston.—It is said that Prof. Morse intends to establish next year, a line between Albany and Buffalo. It will be but a few years before this Telegraph will be connected with every railroad in the Union.

The tolls received at the Albany Canal Collectors office for the season amounts to $353,577.91. The canals in New York have done good service to the State this year.

The following extract from a letter published in the N. Y. Tribune, dated Nov. 19, 1844, written from Lexington, Ky., will be read with heartfelt interest by the friends of Mr. Clay. It was hoped that the Great Statesman might be induced to accept a seat in the U. S. Senate, and battle once more for his country's rights.

'Mr. Clay will never again return to public life. His career as a statesman is ended. The measure of his fame is complete. His life will one day be written by an impartial pen, and while the calamities by which he has been decimated in his last appeal for justice, from his contemporaries will sink into oblivion, every page of our country's recent history will be illumined by his great deeds and glowing patriotism.'

THE CRISIS.

'Yastams are remitted by the Irish in this country to their countrymen, "to enable their friends to come to the land of their adoption." The amount thus remitted to Ireland through five houses in the city of New York, and negotiated by one person only (an Irishman) was found, according to foreign records, within a few years prior to 1838, to have been $234,400 or $2328,602 40. Calculating the average price of passage at £2, this amount has brought to our shores 262,230 paupers, or those without means to pay their passage; besides children others obtaining their passages at a less price. Suppose "the pauper importing houses," and consequently the number imported, to have been double, and also one fourth more money to have been remitted by friends and other private means—the sum will have been $571,505 of our own money sent from New York alone to import 590,000 Irish!

A Philadelphia paper said, a few days since, "On yesterday two more vessels arrived at this port from Liverpool and Londonderry, filled to the very decks with the lowest, poorest and most filthy kind of Irish. We are assured by a gentleman of veracity that the stench which arose from these people, as they came upon the shore, was of the most offensive and disgusting kind. We dare say our Alms House will be well filled ere long; and our Criminal Court will have an additional business during the term."

More descendants of the men who fought our Revolutionary battles! Two vessels are now in the river with 447 immigrants on board. Another is reported below.

A characteristic alien quotes in his paper in this city and expresses his 'indignant abhorrence at such a spirit,' as would state a simple and unvarnished fact. The reason is obvious; he would not have our countrymen acquainted with the introduction of such masses of foreign paupers. Our American papers must not therefore mention it! Oh no! What tame fools these foreigners would make us!

Foreign Paupers and Criminals.—It is as well known to our countrymen as perhaps any other fact, in connection with this subject, that a large portion of emigrants—men, women and children—from foreign countries, are paupers; that they come here as such, and that we are compelled to support them; and oftentimes during their natural lives. This, as may well be imagined, is a grievous burden to our country; and yet we tamely submit to it without a decent respect for ourselves and without remonstrating against the practice of sending them here, by special provisions of European governments. By the reports of the Commissioners of the poor in England and Ireland, they have not only continued to transport their paupers to our country with all the means in their power, but they have petitioned Parliament for that body to provide for transporting them in still larger numbers to America. An Englishman has informed us that he has often witnessed large bodies of paupers marched down from the poor-houses in vast towns on the coast of England and their passages paid to America by the commissioners. Notes of the same kind, some of this kind, the following, in confirmation of this: "The Commissioners of the Poor in England recommend that Parliament pass an act authorizing the different parishes in England to raise money for the purpose of sending the most vicious and worthless of their parishes—such as are irreclaimable—out of that country to this!"

Of the number of alien passengers," says a late paper, "who arrived at this port (New York) during a month last year, one hundred applied to the Commissioners of the Alms House in this city, immediately after landing, most of whom had their passages paid by the parishes from which they had been sent." And one of our Alms House commissioners stated to us, "I have seen one of the passenger-ships filled with paupers alone." And further, "when entire cargoes now come out, it has been ascertained that the parishes have paid their expenses; and we frequently hear the same thing from the pauper passengers. Indeed, they have no other mode of getting here. It is common for them to walk directly from the ship to the Alms House and ask for admission." Thus the charities which belong to the unfortunate among our own countrymen are almost entirely absorbed in supporting worthless and miserable mendicants, criminals and refugees from Europe. The report of a gentleman in this city, made sometime since, and by request of a committee of Congress of this and collateral subjects, has the following among numerous other important facts:—"It is stated on authority entitled to credit, that 'the average passages of more than thirty thousand persons have been paid from Ireland, England and Scotland alone, to enable them to leave there for America, most of whom have arrived at this port.' The commissioners state that 'there are not over one-fourth of the emigrants who come to this country that possess means to obtain a comfortable support for themselves and families on arriving here.' Of the 300 admitted to the hospital that year, 307 only were native Americans; that is, one American to six foreigners, or in the proportion of one every 44 of the latter, and of 1233 of the former. Of those assisted from the Alms House, more than two-thirds were foreigners."

A late order from the English Board of Poor Law Commissioners instructs the assistants to pay 'particular attention to emigration, to raise money for emigration; etc. A report from a town acting from these instructions, and accidentally falling into our hands, says:—"Many emigrants, and some American vessels have been put in for the same purpose; four families have been sent out by the parish, and are doing well; the expense was paid, at once, out of the rates and cost of one large family was saved in two years." The language of another report is:—"to get rid of the most vicious and irreclaimable paupers by sending them to America." Large sums are raised for this purpose by private contributions as well as by taxes; and the foreign presses announce these facts with unblinking cheerfulness. There was raised, at one time, by a few of these towns, $2,473, or $11,820, to defray the expenses of 359 paupers to this country! Thus the whole cost of transporting all the paupers of England, Ireland and Scotland, may be saved, as they calculate, in two years, by shipping them to the United States!

The Mexican government has lately passed a law that no person shall exercise the right of suffrage after 1845 who cannot read and write. It would be well if this government would pass a similar law, adding to this qualification a knowledge of the English language.

Gov. Cass, it is thought will be sent from Michigan to the U. S. Senate. He will labor zealously to get the nomination for the Presidency in 1848.

Native American Party.—This party appears to be daily gaining strength in New York and Philadelphia, and is said now to be able to control the elections in each city. The increase of this party is the natural consequence of the incessant appeals made to naturalized citizens to vote as foreigners, as Irishmen, Germans, &c. If these citizens permit themselves to be rallied, not as Americans, but as foreigners, they will draw a line of distinction between themselves and natives which will necessarily unite the latter in a body. The distinction is wrong, and naturalized citizens ought to see that, by making it, they will be overwhelmed and thrust from every office. Why should men be rallied as German Democrats, or German Whigs? or Irish Democrats, or Irish Whigs? They are recognized as Americans, and participate in all the rights of American citizens; and should be satisfied to unite themselves to the party of their preference, without reference to the country from whence they came. They surely cannot seek to create a foreign party in the Republic—a party distinct in principle and interest from the rest of the people. If this be not their purpose, why do they rally as Germans, Irish, &c. Heretofore there has been no distinction made between native and adopted citizens; and the latter have had their full share in the distribution of public offices.—Will adopted citizens seek to destroy this harmony of feeling, and array one class of citizens against the other? They should be the last persons in community to draw a line of distinction, which will probably never be obliterated.—Baltimore Clip.

REMOVAL AND NEW GOODS.
FRED. WARDNER
 WOULD respectfully announce to his friends and customers and the public in general that he has moved his stock of merchandize from his old stand to the south store in Rogers' new Block, nearly opposite the Cottage Inn, where he will be happy, to see his friends and customers and supply their wants on the same liberal terms that he has in the past. Being fully determined to sustain the reputation he has acquired of selling goods cheaper than any other house in Milwaukee—and he would say to his old customers, that he feels daily grateful for past patronage and hopes that none will leave him in consequence of the change in his location.

ENQUIRE FOR FRED. WARDNER'S
 and be sure that you find the right place before purchasing if you wish to save money. He is decided by any one who may tell you that we have moved out of town, or retired from business or any other yarn to deceive you, but take a bee line for the new store. Be careful—be persevering—be sure that you are right
 —then go ahead, and you will find us at home with the largest, most fashionable, and best re-lected assortment of merchandize in town, which will be sold, as usual, cheaper than the cheapest. Call and examine goods and prices, if nothing more, as it will be a guide for you
 in making your purchase elsewhere.

 L. J. HIGBY.
 dec10 Corner of Wisconsin and water sts

I say stranger, (who makes) Yes, HIGBY sells very you put the name through so cheap since he has got home
 the new stock. Did you not see from New York. An old a Pedlar who bought his year customer of his in Miss Goods as usual, & thinks there told me that he bought he can sell them. Well, I more Goods for five dollars bought my Goods at L. J. than other stores would sell HIGBY'S, in Milwaukee. (for seven—and what a note who has everything you can they far exceeded any he has, and so cheap that had bought elsewhere for 75 cents from that place of elegance, durability and mil-way other cannot sell with. Hence the cause of those who buy at the Cheap, hurry—HIGBY have some Cash Store of L. J. Higby. (not them) Good day, sir.
